PROGRAMME

The conference language is German. Unless otherwise stated, the workshops will be held in German.

Friday, 27 November 2026

Registration & arrival

12:30 to 13:45

Welcome to Euro20+! On your arrival, ease into your day with a coffee and a light snack. Please be on time. It’s great to have you here!

Hall (ground floor)

Warm-up

13:45 to 13:50

Our moderator Eva Schulz will be your guide throughout the two days of Euro20+. Take a look at the programme during our warm-up!

Hall (ground floor)

Welcome

13:50 to 14:00

Joachim Nagel, President of the Deutsche Bundesbank, opens Euro20+ with a warm welcome.

Hall (ground floor)

Talk & insights

14:00 to 15:00

With Joachim Nagel (Bundesbank President) and Jan-Christian Dreesen (Chief Executive Officer of FC Bayern München AG)

Monetary policy meets sport – Eva Schulz moderates a high-profile discussion between the leaders of two major German institutions:

Since early 2022, Joachim Nagel has been President of the Deutsche Bundesbank – and thus one of the most important voices in European monetary policy. He holds a PhD in economics and worked for many years at the Deutsche Bundesbank in various positions. In 2016 he moved to the KfW Banking Group, and then, in 2020, to the Bank for International Settlements. He's looking forward to his fifth appearance at Euro20+ and the conversation with Jan-Christian Dreesen.

Jan-Chrstian Dreesen has been Chief Executive Officer of FC Bayern München AG since May 2023, responsible for one of the most successful and internationally renowned sports clubs in the world. A graduate in business administration, he has been a member of the Executive Board since 2013 – initially as Chief Financial Officer, later as Deputy Chief Executive Officer. Previously, he held various senior management positions in the banking sector.

After the half-hour conversation, you'll have a chance to ask your questions and tell them what moves you.

Hall (ground floor)

Break

15:00 to 15:15

You've earned a break! Grab a drink and think about which workshop you're interested in.

Hall (ground floor)

Town hall

15:15 to 16:00

With Boris Vujčić (Vice-President of the European Central Bank)

This workshop will be in English.

In this town hall, led by moderator Eva Schulz, Boris Vujčić will offer first-hand insights into Croatia's adoption of the euro and his new post as Vice-President of the ECB. He will also share his expertise on the topic of financial stability. The town hall will be held in English.

Boris Vujčić has been Vice-President of the ECB since June 2026. Born in Zagreb, Croatia, he went on to study economics at universities in Europe and the United States and has held various teaching posts. In 1997 he joined Croatia's central bank as head of its Research Department. He became a member of the Council of the Croatian National Bank in 2000 and served as Governor for 14 years before transitioning to his current role at the ECB.

Hall (ground floor)

Break

16:00 to 16:30

Time for a quick breather before the workshops start.

Hall (ground floor)

Let's talk tech! How Germany can hit the ground running

16:30 to 18:00

Workshop with Fritzi Köhler-Geib (Bundesbank Executive Board member) and Carsten Dirks (Chief Operating Officer at the Federal Agency for Disruptive Innovation)

AI, chips, cloud: Developing these technologies will shape our future. Germany has the ideas – how do we bring them to life? Bundesbank Executive Board member Fritzi Köhler-Geib and Chief Operating Officer Carsten Dirks discuss how strong research can be turned into successful tech products, where the money comes from and how German innovations can spread worldwide. Eva Schulz will moderate the talk.

Level: Beginner

Hall (ground floor)

Europe facing headwinds: What course do we set?

16:30 to 18:00

Workshop with Urs Lendermann (professor at the Bundesbank's University of Applied Sciences)

Europe is facing headwinds: War, geopolitical turmoil, economic pressure and growing doubts about the joint project itself. Do we stick to our current course, do we change direction, or do we need an entirely new destination? In this workshop, you'll take the helm and develop ideas for a Europe that holds together, remains capable of action and reawakens confidence.

Level: Beginner

Café (ground floor)

Why does my money feel like it goes less and less far? – Inflation made easy

16:30 to 18:00

Workshop with Lilli Zimmermann (professor at the Bundesbank's University of Applied Sciences)

How come I have more in my account but I'm poorer than before? In this workshop with Lilli Zimmermann, professor of economics at the Deutsche Bundesbank's University of Applied Sciences, you will learn more about the phenomenon of inflation. Interactively, we will explore why prices are rising and what we can do to combat it. Bring your ideas with you and help us safeguard price stability.

Level: Beginner

Room 1 (2nd floor)

Who has how much? And why is this of interest to monetary policy?

16:30 to 18:00

Workshop with Alexander Erler (Bundesbank expert)

Savings deposits, shares or a house of your own: How is wealth in Germany distributed – and how good are your estimates? In this interactive workshop, you and Bundesbank expert Alexander Erler will take a closer look at the distribution of wealth. Together, we will examine what the data show. You will discover why the same economic developments can affect households in very different ways – and why the Bundesbank takes an interest. In doing so, we'll work together to examine whether and, where applicable, how wealth distribution influences the impact of monetary policy. Bring your questions and perspectives with you.

Level: Beginner

Room 2 (2nd floor)

Break

18:00 to 18:15

An opportunity to network and round off the day.

Hall (ground floor)

Starting your career at the Bundesbank

18:15 to 18:45

Q&A hosted by the junior talent recruitment team

Many people work in a wide variety of areas at the Bundesbank. Would you like to find out what the Bundesbank's like as an employer? Then this is the place to be. Eva Plauz and Timo Schumacher from the junior talent recruitment team will answer your questions on how you can work with us, available opportunities and what requirements you need to meet. You can also talk to former trainees and ask them what it's really like to work with us.

Café (ground floor)

Dinner

18:45 to 20:00

Hungry? We'll have a delicious vegan and vegetarian buffet ready and waiting for you.

Hall (ground floor)

After hours

20:00 to 00:00

DJ, drinks and good vibes: put on your dancing shoes! Events will finish at midnight. The programme continues tomorrow.

Hall (ground floor)

Saturday, 28 November 2026

Arrival & welcome

10:00 to 10:30

Welcome back! First, a spot of coffee or tea. Eva will talk you through the programme for the day. Enjoy!

Hall (ground floor)

War, tariffs and disrupted supply chains are changing the global economy. What does this mean for Germany and the euro area?

10:30 to 12:00

Workshop with Felix Strobel and Lucas Lau (Bundesbank experts)

What happens to growth and inflation when international trade becomes more expensive, commodity prices suddenly rise or economic dependencies become risks? And how should monetary policy react? After all, geopolitical shocks can drive prices while weighing down the economy – a difficult combination for central banks.

In this workshop, we will analyse how these developments affect the German and European economies. We will discuss the consequences they can have for inflation and economic activity and why the Bundesbank is intensively engaged in geopolitical developments.

Bring your perspective into the discussion and find out how global political events influence monetary policy decisions.

Level: Advanced

Hall (ground floor)

Finfluencer – educational opportunity or risk

10:30 to 12:00

Workshop with Ulf Linke and Jörg Janotte (experts at the Federal Financial Supervisory Authority)

“Investing is easy”, “How to win financial freedom” or “You gotta get in on this stock!” – TikTok, Instagram and YouTube swarm with finfluencers offering daily tips on money, the stock exchange and finances. But what’s really behind these posts?

Can finfluencers help young people finally learn more about money and investing? Or is there a danger that advertising, hype and half-knowledge will lead to poor decisions?

This workshop is not about telling you what to believe or do. Instead, we want to look behind the curtain of these posts together, exchange arguments and discuss: What is the boundary between helpful financial education and risky influence? Consumer protection experts Ulf Linke and Jörg Janotte from the Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (BaFin) are here to discuss all this with you.

Level: Beginner

Room 2 (2nd floor)

Break

12:00 to 12:15

Engage with other participants and decide which workshop you'll participate in. You can even go ahead and grab your participation certificate!

Hall (ground floor)

The digital euro: what is it for, when is it coming and how does it work?

12:15 to 13:45

Workshop with Tom Rudert and Arvid Knoblauch (Bundesbank experts)

Cash, card or digital euro – how will Europeans make payments in future? In our interactive workshop with Bundesbank experts Laura Schneider and Arvid Knoblauch, you'll take a deep dive into the world of digital money. You'll explore together what the digital euro is, how it works, and what benefits it would offer to you and society as a whole. By the end of the session, you'll be real experts on the digital euro and ready to actively help shape the future of money!

Level: Beginner

Hall (ground floor)

(Not just) female finance. More autonomy through better finances

Your first job or a new job, salary negotiations, rent, bills, pension – managing your personal finances and keeping everything under control sometimes seems overwhelming. Janin Ullmann knows that from experience. Not only does she regularly discuss exactly these problems with experts and inspiring women on her "Female Finance" podcast, but she has also written a book on the topic: "Female Finance. Your money. Your life. Your rules." In particular, she wants to take away women's fear of taking care of their own finances. In this workshop, Janin Ullmann will give you practical financial tips and show you how to strengthen your autonomy.

Level: Beginner

Café (ground floor)

What are stablecoins and what is the Deutsche Bundesbank's interest in them?

12:15 to 13:45

Workshop with Vicky Metzen and Friso van der Meyden (Bundesbank experts)

In our interactive workshop with Friso van der Meyden and Vicky Metzen, experts from the Financial Supervision Foresight team, we want to dive deeper into the world of stablecoins with you. How does the technology behind them work? What banking system risks can arise from their use and what role does the Bundesbank play in all this? Join us in the fascinating world of these digital currencies whose fast-paced development promises an exciting future!

Level: Advanced

Room 2 (2nd floor)

No clue about the economy or monetary policy? This workshop's for you!

12:15 to 13:45

Workshop with Mathea Wiesner (influencer) and Stefan Ried (Bundesbank expert)

New to university or your job? Then there might be things you know you don't understand but are too scared to ask about. Ignorance is nothing to be ashamed about – it's the best starting point for learning something new.
Mathea Wiesner understands that. On her Instagram channel "lostwithmathea", asking questions is the recipe for success. In the talk, she'll put your questions to economist Stefan Ried. Ried heads the Strategic Office in the Deutsche Bundesbank's Economics Division and translates economic and financial vocabulary into clear writing. Together, they will talk about "Money and the world", the motto of Euro20+. Eva Schulz will moderate the conversation.
Be there and ask your questions – without any shame.

Level: Beginner

Café (ground floor)

Quiz & Farewell

13:50 to 14:15

How well do you know Europe? Test your knowledge about money, the eurozone, and curious facts in our quiz and win cool prizes! To wrap up, we will meet up in the hall and gather your feedback, and then Eva and our Euro20+ team will say goodbye.

Hall (ground floor)

Lunch

14:15 to 15:30

Finally, there's lunch. Don't forget to grab your participation certificate – and have a safe journey home!

Hall (ground floor)

